

WORLD CLIMATE RESEARCH PROGRAMME OPEN SCIENCE CONFERENCE

23 - 27 OCT. 2023 | RWANDA

Advancing Climate Science for a Sustainable Future

The World Climate Research Programme (WCRP) Open Science Conference will be held from 23 to 27 October 2023 at the new Kigali Convention Centre, with options for in-person and state-of-the-art remote participation to ensure inclusion and engagement from communities around the world. We anticipate 1500 delegates on site and an equal number connecting remotely.

Themes

Advances in Climate Research

Showcasing progress and future challenges in understanding Earth's climate system, and advances in climate science capacity around the world

Human Interactions with Climate

Analyzing key drivers and impacts of climate change (past, current and future), identifying risks to human and ecosystem health

Co-produced Climate Services and Solutions

Connecting scientific knowledge, planning, decision-making and policy processes

Examples of potential session topics

- Climate science achievements: advancing our understanding from the ocean to the stratosphere.
- Climate science challenges, new approaches and opportunities: gaps identified by IPCC Working Groups; cycles and budgets of energy, water and carbon.
- Frontiers in climate modeling, observations, and model-data fusion.

- The changing nature of climate extremes, and associated risks and impacts.
- Water availability, food, and ecosystem health in a changing climate.
- Human wellbeing and livelihoods, with a focus on health and cities.

- Climate informatics: near-term regional climate information for adaptation planning in communities and ecosystems.
- Science-based climate change information for mitigation, adaptation, and a sustainable future.
- Climate scenarios: long term climate projections and socioeconomic scenarios; existing challenges and the new realities of climate intervention research.

The conference will be hosted by the Rwanda Environment Management Authority (REMA), on behalf of the Government of Rwanda.

20:00 - 22:00	Evening Session	Public lectures, town halls, learning labs, workshops

Outcomes

- Improved assessment of climate risk and extremes through new collaborations and scientific advances
- Innovation in climate data and information
- Improved understanding and prediction of precipitation through the launch of a global experiment /WCRP Decade of Water Research
- Innovative ways to bridge science and society and build a North/South dialogue
- Fostering climate science leadership from the Global South and around the world
- Input to the UNFCCC Conference of the Parties (COP 28), taking place in the United Arab Emirates in November 2023

Key dates

- September 2022 - Call for Poster Clusters and Side Events proposals
- November 2022 - 3rd circular with program outline
- December 2022 - Abstract submission, financial support application and registration open
- February 2023 - Abstract submission and financial support application deadline
- April - May 2023 - Abstract review and financial support notifications
- June 2023 - Final program with speakers
- 22 & 28 October - Early to mid-career researchers' event
- 23-27 October 2023 - WCRP Open Science Conference

Participants

Science leaders, politicians, policy makers, intergovernmental agencies and Non-Governmental Organizations (NGOs) will share ideas on how climate research leads to a sustainable future. Natural and social scientists, humanities scholars, and practitioners from around the world will showcase their work, learn from each other, and explore new ways to work together to build the future we want. Early and mid-career researchers (EMCR) will play a prominent role in all aspects of the conference.

Sponsorship Benefits

By sponsoring the OSC, you will acknowledge the vital nature of climate research in support of a sustainable future, foster innovative ways to bridge science and society, and build future climate science leadership globally. The Kigali Conference Centre provides a myriad of opportunities for side events, learning labs, poster expositions and working group meetings.

Platinum Sponsors

$50,000 contribution

- Invitation to attend sponsor dinner
- Complimentary premium exhibit booth space
- 4 complimentary conference registrations
- Recognition from the podium at opening session
- Short description on the hybrid platform

Deserving Participant Support Opportunities

There are many deserving students, early career researchers, under-represented minorities, and scientists and practitioners from around the world who would benefit greatly from participating on site at the WCRP OSC 2023 but are unable to travel due to a lack of financial support. Contributions to named scholarships for conference participation are welcomed from individuals and organizations wishing to support the WCRP OSC 2023.
